It is the responsibility of the leader to take the organisation ahead by taking the right decisions in all kinds of situations, said director of IIM, Nagpur, Dr Bhimraya Metri. Leadership is best tested when the business is going through a crisis. If the leader can keep the business going even in crisis and bounce back powerfully then his leadership is widely accepted, he added.

He was speaking at the inaugural session of 'Saksham' Management Conclave organised by Vidarbha Management Association at Chitnavis Center auditorium on Sunday.

Ajit Diwadkar was present as the chief guest on the occasion. Dr Metri further said that the success of the organisation depends entirely on the vision of the leader. It has been challenging to thrive when the entire world has come together as a global market. But it is to remember that every crisis also brings opportunities. Those opportunities should be recognisable to the leader. Success depends on planning and proper execution. Indian people are at the forefront of emergency management.
